Expo 2015: Cnr inaugura a Milano centro ricerca Citta' Studi

VOTA 0 VOTI

MILANO (MF-DJ)--In occasione di Expo Milano 2015 il Cnr ha ampliato e valorizzato il centro polifunzionale situato presso l'Area della Ricerca di Citta' Studi, per farne un centro espositivo e congressuale idoneo ad ospitare eventi sia durante il periodo dell'Esposizione Universale, che successivamente.

L'inaugurazione, si legge in una nota, e' avvenuta ieri in occasione di un convegno realizzato nell'ambito del progetto internazionale Smart Farm Puglia verso Europa 2020, che ha l'obiettivo di stimolare le interazioni fra Italia e Canada nel settore agroalimentare e di contribuire alla sinergia tra le regioni Lombardia e Puglia sui temi agroalimentari in cui esistono eccellenze produttive e scientifiche.

"Per il Cnr e la citta' di Milano e' un bel giorno", ha dichiarato il presidente del Cnr, Luigi Nicolais. "Inauguriamo i nuovi spazi del centro polifunzionale dell'Area della Ricerca di Citta' Studi. Si tratta - ha proseguito - di un intervento di valorizzazione architettonica, tecnologica e scientifica che si inserisce nella piu' ampia politica, condivisa con la Regione e il Comune, di fare della scienza e dei saperi uno dei volani caratterizzanti la riqualificazione e la rinascita urbana. Come, tra l'altro e' avvenuto con la straordinaria esperienza di Expo che ha concorso a promuovere la visibilita' delle eccellenze e delle proposte locali piu' innovative, favorendone la conoscenza e il consolidamento su scala nazionale e internazionale".
